

IS YOUR PET DRINKING MORE WATER?

Does your pet seem to be more thirsty than usual?

Are you having to fill up the water bowl more often or noticing your dog or cat seeking water from other locations such as toilets, sinks, your drinking glass, etc?

If so, this may be an early warning sign of a problem with your pet's health.

Increased thirst and thus increased water intake is a symptom of several very common and often very treatable disorders in dogs and cats. These include urinary tract disease, diabetes, diseases of the adrenal glands, thyroid disorders and several toxicities (ingestions of poisons).

If you have noticed an increase in your pet's thirst don't hesitate to make an appointment with us as we can quickly screen for most of these disorders with an easy and affordable blood test.

Again, most of these diseases are highly treatable, and some can be cured. Early detection is so important, so keep an eye out for any changes in your pet's behavior, water intake, appetite, body weight or energy level and call us right away if you have any concerns. We are here for you and your pets.
